There are about 285 million people in the world who are blind or find it difficult to see. However, not many of these people can read Braille. The problem is that Braille books are not cheap. The cost of making a Braille book is four or five times more than any other book. Technology can help blind people. Some of them can listen to news and information on smart phones. There are also "talking books" which blind people can listen to. However, some blind people prefer to read. Now, you can also buy Braille e-books. At the moment, these are difficult to make and expensive to buy. However, scientists are now working on Braille e-books that might be cheaper than Braille books in the future. These e-books might be the best way to help blind people. That would be good news for millions of people.

The five senses of the body include sight, hearing, taste, smell, and touch. Human beings and most other animals use the five senses to help them live and know the world around them. The senses also help people to learn, protect themselves, and to enjoy the differences between foods, sounds, and other experiences a person has in life. The senses also work together to give you a clear picture of the activities around you. If one sense is not working due to an accident or illness, then other senses will take over or become stronger to make up for the missing sense. Can you imagine what it might be like to live your life without any of your senses?
